INDIGESTION OVERCOME

Overcome by Simple Remedy. Hurried and careless habits of eating, irregular meals and foods that do not harmonize, tend to weaken the digestive organs and result in different forms of stomach trouble.

If you are one of the unfortunate who have drifted into this condition, eat simple foods only, slowly, regularly and take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic.

Mrs. H. J. Smith, Thomasville, Ga., says: "I suffered from a stomach trouble, was tired, worn out and nervous. A friend advised me to take Vinol. My stomach trouble soon disappeared and now I eat heartily and have a perfect digestion and I wish every tired, weak woman could have Vinol, for I never spent any money in my life that did me so much good."

The recovery of Mrs. Smith was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements of the cod liver - aided by the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol. We will return the purchase money every time Vinol fails to benefit.

P. S. Our Sazo Salve stops itching and begins healing at once.

We are still open for additional timely suggestions on how to improve the Hustler-Democrat. Silence on this subject on the part of our subscribers is taken to mean that they are getting the worth of their money, and then some.

E. L. PERKINS ADVOCATES

HENDERSON COUNTY FAIR.

Says Sentiment is Growing for Fair Next Year and Assures His Full Co-operation.

County Farm Demonstrator E. L. Perkins at the request of the Hustler-Democrat has prepared an article on the possibilities and needs of a Henderson county fair for next year and the same is given below for the thoughtful consideration of the farmers of the county and all others interested in the subject of a fair and improved agricultural conditions.

Mr. Perkins stated to a representative of the Hustler-Democrat that sentiment is growing stronger from week to week in various sections of the county for a fair in Hendersonville next year. While the Blue Ridge fair at Dana has done a splendid work in the immediate community, Mr. Perkins finds that the people of the county as a whole are inclined to believe that it is merely a community project and therefore are not much interested in the fair at that place. The farmers, he states, want to have a county fair, centrally located in Hendersonville.

Mr. Perkins also stated that he had been assured by the promoters of the Dana fair that they would gladly cooperate and direct efforts towards making a representative fair for the county in Hendersonville next year.

Mr. Perkins has given considerable thought to this important work and assures the Hustler-Democrat that he will do everything in his power to make the fair a success, knowing that it will have a marked influence upon the farmers in stimulating them to adopt more modern farming methods. He is talking the subject with the farmers over the county and in nearly every section, he states, sentiment is favorable for a fair.

In addressing the people of Henderson county and especially the farmers, Mr. Perkins has the following to say:

Is there any man who can make his way through this world without the help of other men? Is there a man in Henderson county too selfish to help his neighbor? Is there any body in Henderson county who does not profit by the good doings of his neighbor? How does it make you feel to pass one of your neighbor farmers and see him growing better corn, better wheat, better potatoes? How does it make you feel when your friends make a success with clover and peas?

There has never been such a day as the present for the farmers. The prices are high on every thing a farmer can raise. When farmers put first-class goods on the market they get the money. As long as we do not spray our apples, as long as we do not cure our wheat of smut, as long as we put on the market an inferior product we can not hope to get high prices.

How are we going to find out who is doing the best farming in the country? It is the nature of every energetic man to never let his equals beat him at anything.

In the position I hold, I take the authority to say that Henderson county can have as good a fair as any county in Western North Carolina. I have traveled the county from limit to limit and I find an abundance of good live stock, plenty of fancy grains, apples, garden products, and the homes are gorgeously supplied with pantry delicacies.

I have talked with a great many men of the county and I find them willing to help make a great county fair in Hendersonville next fall.

The farmers of Henderson county do not have time to travel over the county and see these things. It only takes about three days from your work and just a little trouble to bring an exhibit of some kind. Can you as an enthusiastic and progressive farmer of Henderson county afford to come out to this fair, meet your friends and tell them that you were too lazy to prepare an exhibit?

Now a very small thing on the part of each individual of this county can make a great fair. Let's begin to prepare for the fair now. I believe that I am voicing the sentiment of nearly every individual of Henderson county in this.

E. L. PERKINS,
Farm Demonstrator.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR SYLVA.

C. E. Bruce and Jordan H. Stanford, prominent Georgia instructors, will accept the proposition recently made by residents of Sylva to sell them the Sylva fair grounds and adjoining property for a summer school. The deeds for the property under consideration will be signed and delivered within the very near future and it is expected that the work on this summer school, which it is believed will mean a great deal to Western North Carolina, will be started about the first of February. The property is admirably situated for a summer school being well drained, having a good elevation and boasting of excellent climatic advantages and water facilities.

PROGRESSIVE WORK OF THE METHODIST CHURCH.

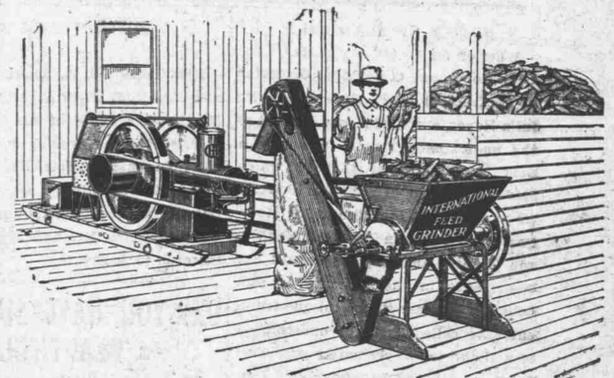

Rev. A. L. Stanford Reviews Work of Two Years' Pastorate at the Hendersonville Church.

The following contribution by Rev. A. L. Stanford Stanford, who has just closed his second year's pastorate over the Hendersonville Methodist church, to the North Carolina Christian Advocate will doubtless be of interest to a number of Hendersonville people who are interested in the progress of religious work in this city:

"As we are now closing our second year's pastorate at Hendersonville, perhaps a few lines would be of interest to some. This town has the distinction of being one of the most beautiful places in all this great Western North Carolina. The town is steadily growing and will some day in the not far distant future be one of our very best little cities. The spiritual interests of the church have not been lagging. We have been trying to make the church keep pace with the material progress. This has been a busy year with me. In addition to our own people we have thousands of people who spend either a part or all the summer here. Many of them attend church and expect and appreciate pastoral oversight so this greatly increases the duties and responsibilities of the pastor. It is a pleasure to preach to such crowds of the most spiritual and cultured from many of leading churches throughout our Methodism.

"As to our own home proper I can truthfully say we have many of the choicest and best. This is a splendid church: Many of them constitute the very salt of the earth. This church is supporting Rev. M. B. Stokes in Corea, besides some "specials." All the claims will be paid in full. At our last quarterly conference this church did the wise and good thing of voting to help some of the weaker charges in the country. While they are entirely foreign missionary in spirit, they are not forgetting the "home base," but the acting upon the truth that "the light that shines farthest shines brightest at home."

"Let me speak of the really great revival which we have just closed. Dr. Chas. W. Byrd was with us nine days and did some of the best gospel preaching it has been my privilege to hear. He is logical, Scriptural, spiritual and sympathetic in his preaching. He is mercilessly clear and plain in his dealing with sin, yet has profound sympathy for the lost and tenderly points them to Him whose blood can make the foulest clean. The attendance was good both day and night and people heard him gladly. The church was strengthened and many were converted. Already I have received thirty-one into the church, with others yet to follow. This is a great country and a fine people."

OFF TO CONFERENCE.

Rev. A. L. Stanford, pastor of the Hendersonville Methodist church; F. E. Durfee, member of this church, A. Cannon of Horse Shoe, left for Charlotte Tuesday to attend the Western North Carolina conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Durfee and Mr. Cannon are delegates from the district conference. At this writing W. S. Miller is undecided as to representing the Hendersonville church at the conference. There is considerable interest in Mr. Stanford's probable return, it not being known what disposition will be made of him by the conference.

BULL ENTERS DRUG STORE.

A large animal of the bovine species forsook his comrades and went quietly into Doctor Medford's drug store last Friday. He entered at the front door and went almost to the rear of the building where he stopped to apparently rest and meditate. The back door was opened so he could take his departure as he was an unwelcome guest and totally incompetent to take charge of the store as a druggist. He was being pursued by Mr. G. M. Fish and some boys who tried to make him pass out at the back door which he refused to do and in trying to find his way to the front door he ran against the prescription stand turning over and breaking several bottles the noise of which so excited him that he became very vicious and left the room vehemently howling and turning over everything in his way and at last made his exit at the front door wiser but sadder and fully persuaded to never again enter another drug store seeking medicine or employment or for any other reason whatsoever.—Clyde Cor. Waynesville Enterprise.
